Inspection Trip to Georgia Regions

— President Johnson's first inspection trip to Georgia today was a hurried one, but it was a full one. The President, who is on his way to the Deep South, will be in Brunswick, Ga., today and in Savannah tomorrow.

Friday's trip is the first of a series of inspections of the major disaster areas in the South.

Political Scare
This seemed to suggest that Johnson, even while immersed in the hurricane disaster problem, was thinking ahead to the broader problem of Georgia's political allegiance in November.

By coincidence, the President's appearance in the Deep South came only a day after his forces experienced a scare, if nothing worse, in Georgia's Democratic primary.

Two congressmen who have generally supported administration programs — Reps. Charles Weltner and Phil Landrum — were renominated after stiffer-than-expected primary opposition.

Officeholders Present
In both states, Johnson was flanked at every turn by the most prominent local Democratic officeholders on his inspection tour.

The President, announcing his trip barely an hour before departure, turned in a performance reminiscent of the poverty tours when he got down on his haunches, with sharecroppers and talked man-to-man about the problems of the economically underprivileged.

In Florida and Georgia, Johnson hopped out of his auto at the worst scenes of devastation, picking his way through sludge and sludge, ducking under fallen wires and trees, clambering over shattered concrete seawalls to get a closeup view.

Voices Sympathy
Turning to the victims, who gathered around him in awed knots, he said simply: "I feel sorry for you."

At St. Simons Island, a vacation retreat, Johnson saw

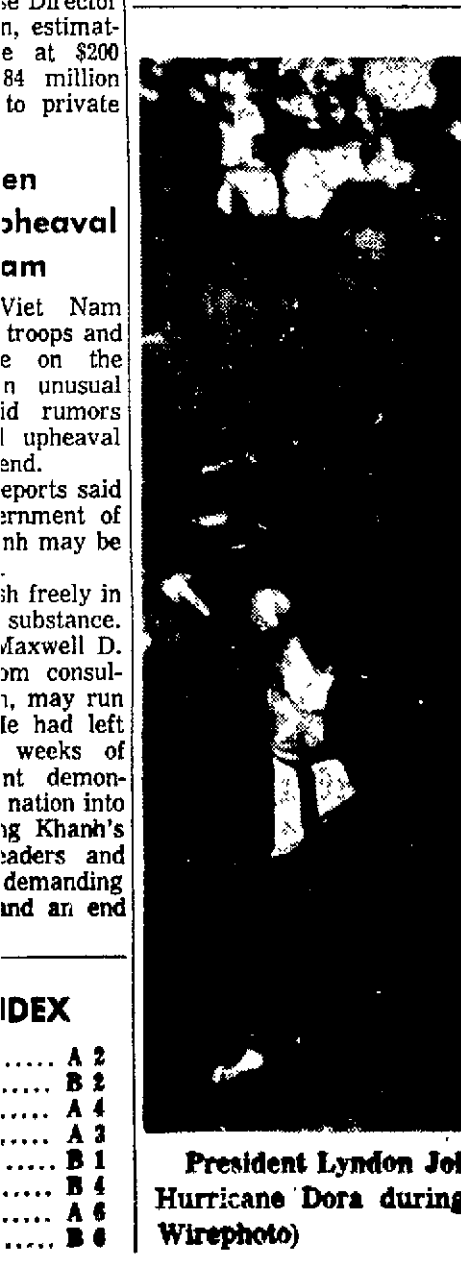

Freighter Afire, 37 Men Rescued

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-seven men who abandoned a burning freighter in the Atlantic Ocean were reported safe aboard another ship today.

"All hands accounted for," the Coast Guard said, "but looks like will stay afloat," but the rescue ship, the freighter La Pintada from Panama City, radioed the Coast Guard Friday night.

The men left the 13,790-ton freighter, Globe Explorer, in lifeboats and rafts. She was carrying 20,000 tons of coal. Seas were relatively calm. The ship was 360 miles southeast of New York.

The Coast Guard said the rescue ship radioed that the crew was "all safe" and made no mention of injuries.

Reynolds Says State Will Prevent Any New Violence

No Charges As Result of John Doe Quiz

MADISON (AP)—Dane County Dist. Atty. Michael Torphy reported Friday that a Madison John Doe investigation into an alleged plot to discredit state officials through use of fake photographs did not provide evidence to justify issuance of warrants.

Torphy said the evidence did not substantiate allegations of criminal or improper conduct by members of the Milwaukee Police Department and added there was no indication of similar conduct on the part of the Milwaukee district attorney's office.

Witnesses Disagree
In announcing results of the probe, Torphy said: "A good share of the testimony given by the two principal witnesses not only was unsubstantiated and contradictory, but also was, in my belief, motivated by self-interest and an attempt to curry favor with various law enforcement officials."

Prelates in Rome for 3rd Council Start

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Roman Catholic prelates from around the world streamed to Rome today for the opening of the third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council on Monday.

The gathering is devoted to modernizing the Catholic church and promoting unity of Christians.

The council press office said 2,500 of the 3,000 prelates eligible were expected to attend. Most of the others were excused because of age or health.

Pope Paul VI will open the session in St. Peter's Basilica with a mass celebrated with 24 bishops. He is expected to close the session on Nov. 20.

A major question is whether or not it will be the last session of the council.

Msgr. Pericle Felici, the council's secretary general, said Friday it was not possible to tell in advance when the council would end.

Speaking on a television program he said: "Certainly, it is everybody's wish that the council end as soon as possible."

Throws Boys Into River Admits Killing 2 Tots And Assaulting Mother

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Found the body of David Adams, 1, about 4 a.m. It was lodged against a tree limb in the edge of the river and about a mile downstream from where the mother was assaulted.

Within an hour another group recovered the body of Dickie Adams, 2½.

A search for the youngsters was intensified after Hefley told his story at police headquarters.

"I dropped the little one in the water by accident," police quoted young Hefley as relating, "and I got scared, so I set the other one on the bank and ran."

He pointed out a spot beside the river and about 20 yards from where Mrs. Adams was left stabbed, beaten and raped. The attack occurred Thursday night. Doctors said she was knifed four to six times.

After regaining consciousness, Mrs. Adams told detectives "a fat-faced man" she never saw before was the attacker. She said he pointed a knife at her side and entered her car as she was leaving after a visit with her parents.

Summons Prosecutors and Sheriffs to 3 Regional Sessions to Discuss Crisis

MADISON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds today summoned Wisconsin district attorneys and sheriffs to three regional meetings Sunday to discuss means of dealing with the possibility of further violence in the National Farmers Organization demonstrations at livestock yards in the state.

The call for the conferences was issued by the chief executive a few hours after his lengthy closed door session with NFO president Oren Lee Staley, and the NFO announcement that it planned to lift a moratorium on picketing.

Reynolds set up meetings Sunday at Green Bay, Eau Claire and Madison. Representatives of several state agencies will meet with the local law enforcement officers. The governor's announcement said "the current situation of the NFO will be discussed, laws will be explained, methods of enforcing the laws will be explored and assistance available to counties will be detailed."

Morning Session at Green Bay
The Green Bay meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m., the Eau Claire conference at 1 p.m. and the Madison session at 4 p.m.

Reynolds issued a warning against further violence on NFO picket lines following his meeting with Staley Friday. The six-hour session at the State Capitol failed to reach an agreement on a new set of terms for keeping the peace on stormy picket lines.

The governor said he had made it "perfectly clear that we're going to have law and order" and "there'll be no more blocking of highways and no more trespassing."

Staley said that "lawful demonstrations are certainly the farmers' legal right." He added that the moratorium he called

Redistricting on County Level in Michigan Order

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote apportionment formula for state legislatures has been applied at the county level in Michigan for the first time.

Circuit Judge Fred N. Searl ruled Friday that the Kent County Board of Supervisors must be reapportioned on a population-only basis.

But he did not issue an immediate order for redistricting, saying he would leave it up to the 1965 session of the Michigan Legislature to carry out reapportionment of county governing units.

If the legislature fails to act, Judge Searl said, "application may be made to this court for an appropriate remedy."

Britain Warns Against Attack On Malaysia

BY TONY ESCODA
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Britain warned today that it reserved the right to strike back at Indonesia if attacks on Malaysia continue. The statement came as the Defense Ministry announced British Royal Air Force jets already had gone into action against Indonesia paratroopers in Malaysia.

The ministry said eight Hunter jet fighters, attacking in two sections of four each, mounted an attack Friday with two-inch rockets near the Labis area, 105 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur.

New Attacks Expected
A band of some 50 paratroopers staged a landing 10 days ago, near Labis. Military operations involving British Gurkha troops from Nepal have been launched to flush them out. So far eight of the paratroopers have been killed and as many as 19, possibly more, captured.

The ministry announcement said further air attacks are likely. There was no immediate word on how successful the air strike was. No other details were given.

The operation appeared patterned after tactics adopted during the 12-year war against Chinese-led Communist guerrillas in Malaya, when planes bombed and strafed an area to force the guerrillas into ambushes set up around the strike zone.

Britain, under a defense pact with Malaysia, supplies most of this young country's military air power. The tiny Malaysian air force has no combat planes.

Panama Uncovers Communist Plot

Gronouski Scoffs at 'Backlash'

Predicts Huge Polish-American Vote for Johnson

BY JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski scoffed at talk of a "white backlash" Friday and predicted an overwhelming Polish-American vote for President Johnson.

Gronouski, the first American of Polish descent to be a Cabinet member, said reports of resentment by Polish-Americans of Negro gains in American society are "nothing but a campaign cliché."

"Certain clichés develop in a political campaign," Gronouski said in an interview, "and the white backlash among Polish-Americans is one of them."

The former Wisconsin tax commissioner has this year addressed more than 20 Polish-American groups in those areas where the Polish population is thickest.

"I've seen absolutely no evidence of a backlash among these people," he said. "I've discussed civil rights openly and frankly at these meetings, I've developed a tremendous rapport with them, and I think I know how they feel."

"Literally hundreds of them have come up to me afterward to thank me for setting the record straight. There's no more resentment there than among any other nationality group — and I don't find it much anywhere."

Campaign Appearances
Gronouski, 45, probably leads all Cabinet members in campaign appearances this year. He has traveled across the country and spoken to dozens of political meetings besides his appearances before Polish-American gatherings.

Best estimates of the Polish-American population, he said, are between 8 million and 10 million.

"They're concentrated in key electoral states like New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and Michigan," he said. "And if there's to be a bloc vote, I honestly look for an overwhelming vote for President Johnson by Polish-Americans. If they're concerned about any backlash, it's the Goldwater backlash against civil rights, against Social Security, against tax cuts."

While most Polish-Americans are Roman Catholics, Gronouski said, the presence of a Catholic on the Republican ticket — vice presidential candidate William E. Miller — should have little effect on the Polish-American vote.

"They are voting for a president," he said. "The race is between Johnson and Goldwater. And I'm pretty sure Goldwater has no attraction for these people."

Studio Ordered to Account for Revenues Of 'Cleopatra' Film

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor and her former husband, singer Eddie Fisher, have won another round in their court battle to force 20th Century-Fox films to account for revenues from the film "Cleopatra."

For the second time, Federal Judge Thurmond Clarke turned down the studio's attempt Thursday to have the suit dismissed. He refused the first dismissal request May 24.

Miss Taylor and Fisher own 85 per cent of MCL, a Swiss corporation, which in turn owns 35 per cent of the $40 million film. Fox owns 55 per cent and Walwa Films owns the remaining 10 per cent.

Fox Cities Police Warned by FBI About Escapee

A former Appleton and Kaukauna man being sought on federal warrants for escaping police custody is believed traveling with two brothers, both considered armed and dangerous, local police agencies have been told by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Raymond L. Wyngaard, 26, being sought after he fled from Detroit police last month following a gun battle, is believed to be traveling with Humberto Ornel, 30, of San Antonio, Tex., and Rudolph Cardenas, 23, of Detroit. Both are described as of Spanish American extraction and are armed.

FBI authorities gave no reason for believing the two men are with Wyngaard. Local authorities said they have not been told any details.

Wyngaard served jail sentences in Appleton and Wisconsin before leaving the Fox River Valley to live in Detroit several years ago. He was arrested in California and was being returned to Detroit by police when he made his escape. He held office workers hostage for six hours before fleeing in a stolen car, after exchanging gunshots with police.

A companion with Wyngaard during the escape, Carl Emmett Prichard, 32, of Dearborn, Mich., was arrested by police some days later in Detroit.

Report Given On Area School

Vocational Education Committee Stymied On Type of Board

Members of the Appleton Board of Vocational and Adult Education were given a proposed Fox Cities area vocational school this week.

Giving the report were board president George Howden, chairman of the committee studying possibilities for the proposed area school, and school director Carl Bertram, a committee member.

The committee apparently is stymied at present about how to establish a board to govern an area school. A series of questions concerning operation of the school are to be put to C. L. Greiber, director of the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, and the answers discussed at a meeting of the committee next month.

Board members told Bertram and Howden to keep the idea of an area school alive as long as possible.

Bertram said Greiber told him he is planning to introduce a bill in the January session of the legislature which the state director hopes will eliminate some of the organizational problems now blocking progress of establishment of the school.

Valley Representatives To Attend Institute On Mental Health

Several representatives of the Outagamie County Mental Health Association plan to attend the seventh annual leadership training institute of the Wisconsin Association for Mental Health Oct. 23 in Madison.

Gov. John W. Reynolds will address the noon assembly on "Comprehensive Mental Health and Mental Retardation Planning." His talk will outline what has been done in Wisconsin's planning and will include suggestions for improving treatment.

Theme for the conference will be "Progress in Mental Health—A Report on the Future."

Better Warning For Black Creek Crossing Urged

More significant warning approaches to the intersection crossing at State 47 and 54 in the Village of Black Creek recommended by the Wisconsin Highway Department.

Department officials surveyed the site along with representatives of the Outagamie County traffic patrol. The recommendations are to be made to the village board.

Officials said the intersection has been the site of many "near misses" and was the scene last month of a highway fatality.

Capt. Ronald Decker said the intersection is clearly marked with proper highway and arterial signs, but that motorists approach the signs without proper warning of a coming arterial stop.

To Your Good Health

Deep Tan No Badge Of Assured Healthiness

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What about getting a tan?

I feel good, and have plenty of energy. But my friends keep saying, "Why don't you go out and lie in the sun and get a tan? You look sick and pale all the time."

After all, I swim, play golf, Dr. Molner work in the yard and go fishing. What more can I do? My friends seem to think unless you get a deep tan, you are sick.

S. H.

Ignore your toast-colored friends and go your own way. You sound pretty healthy to me. Certainly a reasonable amount of sunshine is good, but it doesn't have to be in such doses as to turn you brown. Some sickly people, in fact, can look quite robust from sun-tanning, but all it does is hide their pasty complexions.

So far as that goes, there can be a vast scale of skin tones, from milky white to very ruddy, with all of them indicating perfectly good health.

Danger of Excess

Among normally active people, there are more who suffer from getting too much sun, too quickly, than are harmed in any way by not getting enough sun.

A bad sunburn can make one as sick as being burned with equal severity by any other means.

In the long run excessive burning not only coarsens the skin but predisposes to skin cancer.

Deep tanning may be stylish but it isn't necessarily a contribution to health.

Dear Dr. Molner: A relative of mine who lives in another city has been sick for five years. She has agranulocytosis. Her white cell count has been around 3,000. She has been generally weak but not a bed patient.

Doctors there felt her condition was not caused by drug poisoning or a defective spleen, but possibly by hard work and tension. What are the causes? What tests should be used? Can the disease ever be cured?

N. S. C.

Agranulocytosis is a failure to produce white blood cells. Symptoms are sores, especially of the mouth and throat, weakness and fever.

The usual cause is toxicity from certain drugs, or exposure to other poison materials, including benzene fumes or certain cleaning fluids.

The basic test would be a complete blood count, plus observation aimed at finding whether she has been exposed to drugs or chemicals which could cause poisoning.

Treatment then would begin with preventing further contact with toxic materials, plus antibiotics, careful mouth hygiene and, in some cases, blood transfusions.

Malnutrition could contribute to agranulocytosis, but tension and hard work would not.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet "The Calorie Chart," write Dr. Molner in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

State Homemaking Aid Plan Gaining Added Importance

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—Homemaking assistance for the elderly, chronically ill and financially distressed is becoming a more important part of the public welfare program in Wisconsin.

The State Department of Public Welfare says that recent amendments to federal laws which provide reimbursement for such costs have given a new emphasis to the employment of trained women on local welfare staffs to demonstrate and provide home services for public assistance families.

Six of the 72 county welfare departments of the state now provide such homemaker services and seven others are in the process of establishing such programs. The state agency said local welfare officials in 12 other counties have discussed such programs with them, with a view to getting state and federal grants-in-aid.

Women employed for such advisory and work programs are paid more than ordinary domestic workers, because of the special qualifications demanded.

A state agency bulletin said while public provision of such services is comparatively new in Wisconsin, such programs have been provided for many years by private and voluntary social service organizations in many Wisconsin localities.

"The primary functions," the state department said in a descriptive bulletin, "is to maintain household routine and to create or preserve wholesome family living in times of stress."

Plan to Resolve Chronic Indian 'Problem' Has Fallen With Thud

Suggestion to Buy Menominee Forest Lands Has Had No Official Response

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — A bold new contribution to the perennial discussion about resolving the chronic "Menominee Indian problem" apparently has fallen with a thud in state government policy circles.

Vere L. Fiedler, member of the State Highway Commission and chairman of a special subcommittee of the Menominee Indian study commission, expressed cautious disappointment Friday about the total lack of official reaction to his recent proposal that the state buy the former Menominee Indian forest lands in Menominee County from Menominee Enterprises, the private corporation which now owns and manages them.

Fiedler's special report was filed with Atty. Gen. George Thompson, chairman of the Menominee commission, about three weeks ago.

Pave The Way

The document in strongly worded terms called for an immediate program of federal financial relief for the individual

Menominee families to resolve their school, health and subsistence difficulties and then proposed the state take over the forest lands to pave the way for more recreational development and employment opportunities that would strengthen the long-range economic outlook for the community.

Such a purchase would involve multi-million dollar appropriations by the state legislature on behalf of the State Conservation Department which was suggested as new owner and manager of the forest.

But there has been no official reaction from legislators, the executive office, the conservation commission or the Thompson-led commission, and there has been no response, moreover, from the Menominee community indicating such a land transfer would be acceptable there.

Might Get Aids

The state-owned forest would be eligible for state and federal grants-in-aid not now available because the land is officially in private ownership, the committee report said.

Moreover, the state could develop the land recreationally in a way the private corporate owner would not or could not, the Fiedler report suggested. Some of the land could be sold profitably in the interest of local economic development, the report also suggested.

Most important, if the state owned the forest it could set up a sizeable work camp within it to provide employment for many of the Menominees who are now chronically unemployed, it was said.

Previous Experience

Previous experience of state officials in connection with proposed park developments within the forest and along the Wolf River suggest Indian community reaction may be hostile to the idea of land sales to the state. Individual Indians often have protested the transfer of their former tribal holdings to the new corporation.

Under the law which set up Menominee County and ratified the formation of Menominee Enterprises the legislature is required during its 1965 session to make a complete appraisal of the experiences of the Menominees under the federal law which terminated their tribal status.

The Fiedler committee report, one capitol source said yesterday, probably will be reviewed by the state's lawmakers then if it gets no official response now.

New Attendance Mark Created at Appleton's Two Swimming Pools

The long, hot summer—except for those few chilly weeks in August — helped set all-time attendance marks at Appleton's municipal swimming pools.

There were 195,148 swimmers, counted at the pools, Recreation Director E. W. Grover announced today.

Mead pool set the pace with a 101,752 attendance count, erasing the previous season's high of 94,000.

At Erb pool, 93,396 used the swimming facilities as compared to the former 90,000 high set a few years ago.

Both pools closed Labor Day.

"It was the best year we ever had," Grover commented.

Three Youths Sentenced After Spree

WAUPACA — Three 16-year-old youths who were subjects of a two-day manhunt last week after they went on a stealing spree, were sentenced to the Boys School at Wailes when they appeared before Juvenile Court Judge Wendel McHenry Friday.

The three boys admitted to Waupaca County sheriff's department authorities that they entered at least seven cottages along the Wolf River, stole a car and went as far as Iowa before returning, took a boat and entered the Dale Co-op. The trio also entered a house trailer in New London.

The boys gathered a large amount of loot, including guns, radios, sleeping bags and other items.

They were apprehended in a corn field near Readfield Wednesday. New London Police Department officers aided the Sheriff's department in the search for the youths.

Waupaca Thumps Stevens Point, 29-6

Reyes Scores 3 Touchdowns In Non-Conference Opener

STEVENS POINT—A 3-touchdown performance by Waupaca's Raul Reyes enabled the Comets to open their football season on a successful note here Friday night as they trounced Stevens Point in a non-conference game, 29-6.

The Panthers scored first about midway through the initial stanza on a 13-yard romp off tackle by Jack Reichardt, but Reyes quickly offset that tally by scampering 84 yards with the ensuing kickoff to knot the count at six. Doug Kolb converted and it was all Waupaca the rest of the way.

After Kolb recovered a fumble for the Comets late in the opening period, it took but seven plays before Reyes crashed in from five yards out.

A 19-yard off-tackle slant by Reyes in the second quarter netted another TD for Waupaca and Kolb's PAT conversion ran the count to 20-6 at halftime.

Don Behm nailed the Pointer quarterback in the end zone for two more Waupaca markers in the third stanza and Rick Riddle closed out the scoring for the winners with a 2-yard TD plunge in the closing period.

Elden Broehm Leaves For 3-Week Vacation

Will Not Say Whether Abiding by Request Of Council to Take 30-Day Leave of Absence

Appleton City Clerk Elden Broehm left the city late Friday and will return about Oct. 1.

The 40-year-old public official has been target of criticism since his arrest and fine last week in Milwaukee on a disorderly conduct charge.

His friends and city hall observers reported that Broehm was "an extremely tired man in need of rest."

Clerk for 9 Years
Broehm has been city clerk for the past nine years and was re-elected to another two-year term in April. Before that he was a clerk in the sheriff's office.

Earlier in the week he was unopposed for sheriff on the Republican ticket in the primary. He announced, however, that he would drop from the race.

Brillion Revamps Its Bus Routes

BRILLION — Brillion Public School bus routes were rearranged this week to accommodate 96 parochial school pupils who requested transportation to Trinity Lutheran and St. Mary's Catholic schools.

The increase from last year's 35 bus riding parochial pupils has made it necessary to use one additional bus on the morning routes. Routes are now shorter for the five contract and two district owned buses. State law requires that parochial students ride only on the contract buses.

Gaylord Unbehaun, superintendent of public schools, reported that the district anticipates a saving as a result of revenue collected by the contractors from the parochial pupils.

Planning Commission Board Approves $37,500 Budget

Director's Salary Raised $1,600;
Secretary, Assistant to Get Pay Boosts

Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission's executive committee Thursday night approved a proposed $37,500 budget, which included a $1,600 raise for the commission's planning director.

The budget will receive final approval at a meeting of the entire commission next Thursday.

Major change over last year's budget was a pay raise for Planning Director Eugene E. Franchetti from $9,840 to $11,500. There also were boosts for Planner John Lorentz from $6,500 to $7,100, and Sharon Boardman, office secretary, from $3,420 to $3,960.

Menasha Mayor John Klein, chairman of the budget committee, said the raise for Franchetti was determined after a survey of professional planners in similar positions around the state.

Salary Below Average

He said the salary was still about $400 below the average. Klein had high praise for Franchetti, and other members of the executive committee agreed.

Franchetti was hired in February, 1963, at a salary of $9,000. He previously was resident planner in Oshkosh for a consultant firm.

The proposed budget includes $34,000 in assessments to the 12 member municipalities, and a $3,000 anticipated surplus.

This compares to last year's $31,319 budget, which includes $23,310 in assessments, and an $8,000 surplus.

Entire Cost

Included in the budget is $4,330 for a proposed soil survey. The commission for some time has been attempting to service with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) to conduct the soil study, but has run into several snags.

Franchetti said the figure for the survey will cover the commission's entire cost. Other funds will come from various federal agencies, providing all members of commission approve it.

Eleven of the municipality members approved taking money from contingency funds earlier in the year, but the Neenah City Council turned the measure down.

A major reduction in the budget was a cut from $4,000 to $2,000 for contracted services. The planning director said he did not anticipate a need for the additional monies for outside services.

Assessments to each community are based on its percentage of the 1963 full valuation of the entire region—$790,860,140.

Highest Assessment

Appleton, with a value of almost 38 per cent, will be assessed the greatest amount—$13,076, and Town of Buchanan, valued at slightly more than 1 per cent of the region, will pay the least—$362.

Other proposed assessments are Kaukauna, 8.48 per cent, $2,296; Menasha, 11.27 per cent, $3,888; Neenah, 16.03 per cent, $5,531; Combined Locks, 2.01 per cent, $693; Kimberly, 4.97 per cent, $1,715; Little Chute, 2.15 per cent, $742; Town of Grand Chute, 4.12 per cent, $1,421; Town of Harrison, 1.86 per cent, $642; Town of Menasha, 7.99 per cent, $2,757; and Town of Neenah, 2.17 per cent, $749.

Because the commission has a smaller surplus this year than last, municipalities will be asked to make their first quarterly payment of assessments in January, instead of before March 1, as has been done in the past.

A $232,884 contract for construction of a sanitary sewer collector system in the Butte des Morts utility district, Town of Grand Chute, was awarded to De Vleeshower Construction Co., De Pere, Thursday night by the town board.

Adults Lacking High School Diploma May be Offered Aid

Possible Credits Courses Aim Of AVS Cooperative Study

Adults who left high school before accumulating enough credits to qualify for a diploma may get another chance this fall at the Appleton School of Vocational and Adult Education.

The school's board authorized its director, Carl G. Bertram, to work with public school Supt. William Spears to formulate a cooperative program in which the vocational school would offer courses for credit which could be added to students' high school records.

Spears is expected to present the proposal to the Appleton Board of Education at its meeting Monday. He hopes to get similar approval to make the study.

Program Details

It is possible the program will begin the week of Oct. 5 when the vocational school begins its evening sessions. Courses according to ideas presented by Bertram and Spears, would be taught by Appleton High School teachers.

After a person completes a course satisfactorily, the principal of the high school would be notified. When the person accumulates enough credits, he will be eligible for a high school diploma, subject to approval of the public school board of education.

It is not expected the proposed program would encourage students to drop out of school to take a job and finish their high school education in the evening AVS school because the program would be open only to students not of high school age, Bertram said.

Probably three or four courses would be offered each semester. Subjects probably would be English, a mathematics course and a social science course.

Tuition for the program would be comparable to present evening course fees, about $2 or $3 per semester. Classes probably would meet two or three evenings a week.

Spears, who came to Appleton from LaCrosse, said a similar cooperative program had worked well in that city's schools.

Air Search Continues for Missing Plane

CAP Airborne In Black Creek, Shiocton Regions

Air searches by volunteers and members of the Fox Cities Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) continued Friday in the Black Creek-Shiocton area in hope of sighting the plane which may have crashed there with two aboard.

Missing on a flight between Wisconsin Rapids and Milwaukee Monday night is Lester Flaherty, 44, of Milwaukee, and his daughter, Sharon, 14.

Local units of the CAP are concentrating search in the area after several residents along State 54 reported hearing a small airplane which sounded like it was in trouble late Monday night.

Weather Problems

Rain and heavy fog Wednesday and Thursday hampered an extensive search in the area, but several planes were airborne after 3:30 p.m. on both days. The CAP was asked to begin the search Tuesday afternoon.

Columbia County sheriff deputies reported a search they made of a reported oil slick on the Wisconsin River near Portage turned up no trace of an aircraft.

Sheriff Peter Boylan said, however, the search will be continued. The slick was reported sighted late Thursday west of the I-90, I-94 bridge.

No Accident, Man Shouldn't Have Bothered

A young man who called the Outagamie County sheriff's department Thursday to report a suspected minor accident on State 54 at County Trunk X should have saved himself the trouble.

The man alerted a traffic patrolman who was sent to the scene and found the persons involved in the so-called accident were having a private argument and it was nobody's business but theirs.

Secondly, the young man who telephoned the department may himself be sought by the sheriff. The telephone company has informed the department the man hung up the telephone and left the pay booth without paying for the long distance call.

Weyauwega Has Population Explosion in Public Schools

Elementary Students Now Number 60 More Than Last Year Because of Consolidations

WEYAUWEGA — Enrollment at both Union High School and Weyauwega Elementary School have increased this year.

With the addition of students from three rural schools the elementary enrollment increased from 180 last year to 240 this year. High school enrollment increased by 29 students, from 331 to 360.

The large increase in the elementary school enrollment is due to the closing of the Galilee and Lynwood schools and curtailment of classes at White Lake School.

Another 10 students were added when the sixth grade from the Wolf River School started attending classes in Weyauwega this year. Last year

New London Joins Area Fund Drive

City Will Operate With Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha

NEENAH-MENASHA — Completion of a reciprocal arrangement between the Community Chests of New London and Oshkosh and the Neenah-Menasha Community Chest, was announced today by the board of the local Red Feather agency.

Under the plan a portion of the gift of employees who reside in these cities but work in Neenah-Menasha would go to their home community. A similar arrangement has been in operation with Appleton for several years. This provides an opportunity for those giving at work to have their gift go to their home community. The plan is not to contact these employees at home.

Sellnow Chairman

Additional chairmen have been named for the annual fund drive which will get underway next month. Walter Sellnow, secretary of the Wisconsin Containment Corp., is chairman of the employee division of the Community Chest this year. This division sets up internal solicitation within firms to solicit the executives and employees in 30 firms with 50 or more employees. This is the largest division of the Community Chest organization.

Section heads are Elmer DePrez of the John Strange Paper Co.; C. M. Flaherty of the Wisconsin Telephone Co.; George Christoph, retired Neenah school teacher and present member of the Neenah Board of Education; Ed Graves, who is heading the solicitation at Kimberly — Clark Corp., and Clifford Kraus, head of the solicitation at Marathon Division of Industrial Arts.

New teachers at the high school this year are Miss Shirley Landon, English; Max Harrington, English, and Don Noll, industrial arts.

Hortonville Sewerage Plant Below Capacity

Engineering Report States System Decrease Caused by Foreign Matter, Lack of Bacteria

HORTONVILLE — The village sewerage system is only operating at 60 per cent of its capacity according to a report by Glass and Donaldson, engineers from Waupaca.

The report states the present solids going through the system could be increased 65 per cent before reaching the maximum capacity of the plant. Foreign material entered the plant and caused operating efficiency to drop because of the lack of bacteria.

James Sommers, village clerk, reports there is no immediate concern for expansion, as the plant is adequate for 2,500 people.

School Levy

The board received the tax levy report from the Hortonville Joint District requesting $80,182.53 for school purposes from the 1964 tax roll.

The district also notified the board of informational meetings to discuss building plan. Robert Hauk, school board clerk, said the area had been divided into districts for area meetings.

Ray Warner, village president, said the updated ordinances should be completed before the first meeting in October and that a special meeting to discuss them will be held prior to the meeting.

The police and fire commission recommended that the village dump remain open on Saturdays.

In final action, the board was informed that it was allowable to place stop signs on the left side of the road when it is impossible to place them on the right.

For the period of May 1 through Aug. 31, more than 800 items were distributed by the Pantry Shelf workers. The items included women's, men's, boy's, girl's and infant's clothing as well as many miscellaneous household articles.

Lutheran Churches to Use New Curriculum Sunday

Modern Techniques Developed In Eight Years of Preparation

The first page in what is expected to be a triumphant chapter in the history of church education will be opened Sunday morning, in the parishes in the Fox Cities and across the nation affiliated with the Lutheran Church in America.

After eight years of research, writing, conferences and field testing, a new curriculum will be introduced to the boys and girls enrolled in the Sunday church schools.

Trinity, Our Saviour and Our Redeemer are the Lutheran churches in Appleton affected by the new plan.

The curriculum will be contemporary in approach and will employ the latest in teaching techniques, but will remain faithful to the church's central message.

Training Sessions

To prepare for this event, the instructional staff, parents and others interested in the educational program in Trinity Church have participated during the past 18 months in three different training sessions, each held one night a week for six weeks.

The goals for the series were personal enrichment in Bible history and church doctrine and instruction in the dynamics of helping children and young people learn in both of those areas of study.

Several weeks ago, teachers met with leaders from the Board of Parish Education, LCA, Philadelphia, to become acquainted with the texts, workbooks, filmstrips, charts, maps and recordings created for grades three through 12 and to receive direction in their use.

More Participation

Marvin Wroldstad, chairman of the parish education commission at Trinity Lutheran Church, said, "Teachers will be doing things differently; there will be less telling by teachers and more participation by pupils themselves."

"Teachers will help pupils discover the meaning of the Gospel for their lives. Vital experiences in the class session will throw the light of the Gospel message upon the child's daily life at home and in school," he said.

"The teen-agers are expected to grow through a course in Christian decision-making," predicts Wroldstad. "They will probe the Gospels for answers to some of their most pressing personal concerns."

More Time

A major change in the new program is a change in the time schedule. Children and young people will now spend 75 minutes in their Sunday church school class instead of 60.

At Trinity Church, the classes will meet 10 minutes before the corresponding hour of worship in the sanctuary, and will recess five minutes later. Trinity's sessions are scheduled for 8:50 through 10:05 and 10:20 through 11:35 a.m.

The Rev. I. B. Kindem, Trinity pastor, says "full cooperation of parents is anticipated, especially after the first weeks' adjustment and when the results of increased interest and growth on the part of the children will be evidenced."

As the long-range education program of the Lutheran Church in America continues to unfold, new materials will be available also for the second and lower grades. Further classes will be conducted for parents to increase their effectiveness in helping their children to grow as Christians. There will be adult education classes and family night activities.

It is anticipated that it may take until 1967 before most of the churches will be able to incorporate the various opportunities for learning and fellowship into their parish programs and to provide all of the new resources for teaching.

New Objective

The Rev. Mr. Kindem emphasizes that "undergirding the new materials and new ways of teaching is a new central objective that points all our teaching toward a single goal for all our people, namely, that inasmuch as the Church, as the Body of Christ, seeks to become more effectively that community of believers in which the Holy Spirit calls, gathers, enlightens and sanctifies their fellow men, the church's central educational objective shall be to assist the individual in his response and witness to the eternal and incarnate Word of God as he grows within this community of the church toward greater maturity in his Christian life through ever-deepening understandings, more wholesome attitudes and more responsible patterns of action."

Congregational Pastor To Start Interim Service

The Rev. Wilford Evans to Officially Accept Call to Appleton Church at Sunday Worship

The Rev. Wilford H. Evans, D. D., of Sheboygan, recently called by the members of the First Congregational Church as interim associate minister, will officially begin his ministry in the local church Sunday when he will be presented to the congregation at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services.

Dr. Evans, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church of Sheboygan, moved to Appleton last week and will live at 306 W. Prospect Ave. He will assist the Rev. Edward C. Dahl, in all phases of church work at First Congregational Church and especially in the pastoral care of the congregation.

Sunday he will conduct the worship and Sept. 20 he will preach his first sermon to the church in the Rev. Mr. Dahl's absence.

Oberlin Graduate

Dr. Evans graduated from Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, and graduated from the Chicago Theological Seminary.

While still a student he served for a year in the pioneer rural "larger parish" at Redfield, S. D., then became minister of the Congregational Church in Peru, Ill.

From 1930 to 1962 Dr. Evans was minister of the Sheboygan church. While in Sheboygan he received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Mission House Theological Seminary.

After his retirement, Dr. and Mrs. Evans spent a year in Australia, where he served as minister of the North Perth Congregational Church in western Australia.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

In a cemetery in Cornwall, Conn., is a slab of stone that marks the last resting place of Henry Obaokah, a Hawaiian. Henry did not reach his goal in life, but it was realized by others through the power of his faith.

At the age of 12, in 1794, Henry lost his parents and little brother through murder by an enemy tribe. Living then with an uncle who was a high pagan priest, he was unhappy and alone "... I began to think about leaving the country to go to some other part of the globe ... I may find some comfort ..."

His opportunity came when a ship's captain helped the boy reach New York. From there he went to live with a devout family in Connecticut. He embraced Christianity and knew that he had found the "comfort" he was looking for. Intelligent and eager to learn, he began getting a religious education with the hope of going back to Hawaii and spreading the word of God, but he died in 1818. Yet his dedication to the Christian life inspired others, and in 1835 the first American missionary went to Hawaii.

Work Continues on Bill To Aid Planning Group

Measure Intended to Assist Valley Commission in Implementing Programs

Legislation to give the Fox-Kimberly which will include a subdivision regulation ordinance.

Franchett also reported on the status of two reports on which commission planner John Lorentz has been working.

An up-to-date land use report, detailing the use of all property in the 12-community region, will be presented at a meeting of the entire commission Thursday.

The work follows a hearing in July in which another proposed bill was discussed — and eventually rejected. However, the principle of the measure was praised and won a promise for future lawmaking.

Suggest Amendments

Risley said UW Prof. Jacob Beuscher has recommended the new law be made in the form of amendments to one which initially permitted the commission to organize.

Planning Director Eugene E. Franchett said zoning ordinances for Neenah and Little Chute are nearing final stages, and work is being done on one for Executive committee members voted to invest $2,000 cash on hand in 60-day treasury bills and approved low bids of Twin City Office and Supply Co. of $130.87 for a drafting table and $51 for a cabinet.

Jingo Sings Praises of New NBC-TV Season

Many Scheduled Specials Include Late Musicals, Drama, Series, 'One-Shots'

BY JINGO

"Special" is perhaps the word for the forthcoming NBC television season.

Special from the viewpoint that it represents a special effort by NBC-TV to improve its competitive position with regard to its two major rivals.

And special too, because of the heavy emphasis that the NBC programming and news departments are putting on "specials" for the 1964-65 season.

In addition to its regular weekly programming, which includes such "sleepers" as "The Rogues," starring Charles Boyer, David Niven and Gig Young, and "The Man from U.N.C.L.E.," starring Robert Vaughn, the network has up its sleeve an ambitious array of one-shot productions, many in color and a respectable proportion filmed overseas.

Jingo was privileged to have a preview of the forthcoming NBC season Wednesday at the Green Bay Studios of WFRV-TV, Channel 5.

What sort of specials are in the works? Well, there's "The Stately Ghosts of England," a royal tour of royally haunted houses by the comedienne supreme, Margaret Rutherford.

Then, too, the ever-reliable Hallmark Hall of Fame will offer color productions of the off-Broadway musical hit, "The Fantasticks," starring Bert Lahr, and Dalton Trumbo's "The Magnificent Yankee," a dramatic biography of Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, an ardously prepared "instant special" televised the same day that the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy is released.

Art Tour With Boyer

Charles Boyer will take the viewer on a tour of France's heritage of art in "The Louvre," while an NBC News White Paper will examine the factors behind the decision to drop the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima in 1945.

One special will be entirely devoted to the United States Capitol; another will re-create the Lewis and Clark expedition of 1804.

Danny Thomas will star in five entertainment specials; Perry Como in seven, and Jonathan Winters in six. Victory for Reuther

Fresh from a smashing last-minute victory over Chrysler, Walter Reuther and his United Auto Workers now tackle Ford with full intention of getting at least as good a settlement there, and then head on a collision course with General Motors where Reuther has declared he will get even better terms.

The Chrysler settlement is estimated by company and union sources to be worth $4 or $7 cents an hour over the three-year life of the contract. It is an all-time high record package in the auto industry.

Reuther has the powerful Big Three auto makers on the spot. He tackled the smallest first, now the second and finally the largest. He made no bones that he would call a strike, just when new model cars are to be introduced.

Goldwater's Tax Cuts

Barry Goldwater says that if he were elected president, one of his first actions in the White House would be to ask Congress to enact a system of automatic reductions of five per cent per year for five years in individual and corporate income taxes.

The average voter can not be blamed for asking some searching questions about this much-ballyhooed proposal.

Is this just the normal pledge by any political candidate to reduce taxes? How does it compare with the 10 per cent cut which President Johnson persuaded Congress to enact earlier this year and his recent statement that he hoped to be able to reduce certain excise taxes next year and then proceed to another income tax reduction?

How does Senator Goldwater propose to compensate for the reduced tax revenue? He says the tax cuts would be made possible by a combination of two circumstances, a tight check to hold down if not actually reduce federal spending, and increased federal revenues from an expanded economy he expects the tax reductions would stimulate. How does this differ from the Johnson program?

President Johnson has also pledged to hold the line on federal spending, although at the same time he has pushed a number of expensive new spending programs in Congress. And when he pressed for the

The settlement knocks the Johnson Administration's pleas for restraint in raising wages into a cocked hat. It is almost a five per cent increase; the over-all increase in the nation's productivity has been running at about 3.2 per cent a year.

But the auto industry was wide open because of greatly increased profits in the last few years. In fact the wage increases are not expected to result in higher car prices because of the profit picture.

Some of those profits which could have been returned to customers in the form of reduced prices will now go instead to the Auto Workers. And small employers all over the country must be shuddering at the thought that this will become the national pattern for wage increases over the next year.

tax reduction this year he said it would stimulate the economy. Yet Mr. Goldwater voted against the Johnson tax cut.

The Republican candidate explained this apparent anomaly in this way: A Democratic administration would use rising tax revenues to finance new and expanded spending programs, while a Republican administration by resisting new programs could apply the enlarged revenues to cutting taxes while balancing the budget and reducing the federal debt.

It is certainly an encouraging prospect, if it can be accomplished. Unfortunately Senator Goldwater in his major tax address dealt only in these general terms and offered no specifics to support his position. At the current economic level, a five per cent cut would reduce annual income tax revenues by about $2.4 billion for individuals and $1.3 billion for corporations. In the first year this would add $3.7 billion to the present deficit, for certainly a tax cut would not produce much expansion in the economy immediately. This would impose on a Goldwater administration a healthy burden of spending reduction.

Lacking further delineation of his plans, the Goldwater pledge appears at this moment to have been drafted with the idea that promising tax cuts can normally be expected to produce votes, and that the details on how it could be done will have to be worked out later.

The Idiot Fringe

There could be no better sign of the liberty in this country than a rather silly business going on in Washington.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities is rather fruitlessly investigating various people who went on an organized trip to Cuba this summer although the State Department frowns on such tours. A couple of the young men testifying have taken the Fifth Amendment, have said they cheered at films of a United States plane being shot down in Viet Nam, "because the sooner the American Government loses the war, the sooner peace will come," have proudly declared themselves members of an organization that is "part of the Communist movement," have roundly scolded the congressmen for being nosey, and have generally been officious and obnoxious.

But meanwhile in the crowd have been at least two members of the American Nazi Party of George Lincoln Rockwell. One of them attacked one of the witnesses in true Nazi style and since then they have been carefully guarded by federal marshals. Representative Richard Ichord, presiding at the hearing, ruled that anyone was free to attend the public sessions even if he had to be kept under guard to keep order.

A lot of Americans would probably prefer that everyone else retire and let the way-outs fight it out. But letting them make fools of themselves is a far better method. And maybe along the way the committee might get some new worthwhile ideas.

Count Every Vote!

With United Nations approval, Australia administers the trust territory of New Guinea until such a time as it is decided that full independence can be given to the people of the area's jungles. Indonesia's Sukarno has claimed the land but hasn't really started an invasion. But of even more concern are a group of Papuans who claim they haven't been offered a real "choice" in island elections. They want to vote for Lyndon B. Johnson.

The trust officers thought they had explained the complicated facts of international control to the Johnson cultists earlier in the summer. But then came a broadcast from Rabaul telling about the imminent arrival of one L. W. Johnson who happens to be the New Guinea Director of Education. The Papuans immediately called a meeting to arrange a great reception for the visitor. They were considerably miffed to find that their Johnson was not even related to the Johnsons of Johnson City, Texas, and Washington, D. C.

Then, the group set sail for a small island and subsequently was sought by New Guinea police who said its members hadn't even paid their government council taxes.

There was a lot of controversy over some votes not counted correctly in Cook County in the 1960 presidential election. Republicans had better check closely this November and watch for votes from the Isle of Tsoi. President Johnson is not one to ignore possible votes from the time when 200 "lost" ballots were discovered in time to give him the congressional seat from which he eventually soared to the White House. And the Papuans are a determined people.

New Anti-American Bloc Being Put Together in Southeast Asia

BY RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (AP)—A new anti-American lineup among two Communist states and two not-so-neutral countries appears to be taking shape in Asia.

Although no written agreements among the four are yet known to exist, their increasing closeness already serves Communist China's purpose and hampers United States efforts to achieve stability in Southeast Asia.

The four countries were specifically named by President Sukarno of Indonesia in his Aug. 17 independence speech: "I am announcing to the whole world that no evil spirit, no devil, can prevent (North) Korea, (North) Viet Nam, Cambodia and Indonesia from becoming friends and panied his letter with extracts from Voorhees' correspondence found with the copies of the ritual.

Germany's 1914 eastern frontier was re-established today by Adolf Hitler in a decree issued while Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering was assuring Germans that Britain could not defeat them either by military or economic means.

The Appleton Bluejays, girls softball outfit, displayed some snappy fielding to offset only six hits to defeat some New London girls, 6-5. Shirley "Lefty" Heinritz was the winning pitcher and Grace Kille "donned the mask and pad for Appleton" (catcher). Clara Salm hit a long home run in the sixth inning to put the Appleton squad in the lead.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kreiman entertained friends and relatives at their home in honor of Mrs. Kreiman's birthday. Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krueger, Edward Kreiman and family, Harold Reichardt and family, Alvin Greve, Frank Domke, and Wilmer Huebner and family.

Members of the Mosquito Hill 4-H Club voted to hold a "Fun Night" at the George Jeske home, New London, for families and friends. Darlene Jeske and Eddie Krause reported on activities at Crooked Lake 4-H Camp.

New officers to assume their duties at the Mercury Hi-Y Club meeting in Appleton were William Sense, president; John Leonard, vice president; Ronald Malmstrom, secretary; Gary Kriek, treasurer; John McGowan, chaplain, and Sidney Miller, program chairman.

uniting in the march towards a new world without exploitation of man by man."

HATRED BINDS TIES

Cambodian chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk's recent visit to Jakarta helped consolidate these ties based on common hatred for their anti-Communist neighbors and the "Free World" in general.

"Cambodia and Indonesia will become a powerful united front in the struggle against imperialism, colonialism, and neo-colonialism," Sihanouk declared at a banquet given by Sukarno.

Both Sihanouk and Sukarno have expressed their support for North Viet Nam by word and deed. Indonesia recently agreed to exchange embassies with North Viet Nam, resulting in a break of relations with South Viet Nam, and Sukarno, commenting on the Tonkin Gulf events, declared:

"We don't hide the fact that our sympathies lie on their (North Vietnamese) side."

Sihanouk has constantly voiced his hostility toward Thailand and South Viet Nam, and warned he will negotiate border problems with North Viet Nam — although the countries have no common border.

Upon return to Cambodia, Prince Sihanouk was quoted as saying that Sukarno promised Indonesia would take action to defend Cambodia in case of aggression against Cambodia.

Indonesia has received full and enthusiastic support from North Viet Nam and North Korea for its "crush Malaysia" campaign. On the other hand, South Viet Nam and South Korea are both friendly to Kuala Lumpur.

BEGIN FORMAL RELATIONS

Indonesia and North Korea on April 16 agreed to establish formal diplomatic relations and raise their respective consulates-general to embassies.

Writer Criticizes Choice Of Attic Theater's Play

Editor, Post-Crescent:

What will follow is written in the most charitable spirit to help a fine institution in our community — The Attic Theater.

At the risk of being labeled "stuffy" or "square," or both, I wish to express our utter disappointment with the play titled "Gypsy" recently put on by The Attic Theater. The disappointment was so keenly felt because in the past we have enjoyed humorous plays of the highest caliber, with superb acting by this same group of talented players.

When there are so many good plays available, why — just why would some individual, or group with authority for the selection of plays, decide on this one? Why should a good, entertaining "First Act" of any play be degraded and utterly ruined by a disgusting "Second Act"? Such was our evaluation, at least, of the two acts of Gypsy, seen last week.

Burlesque, with all of the attendant slang and vulgarity, may be anticipated in the rough sections of large cities, but hardly expected to be lish formal diplomatic relations and raise their respective consulates-general to embassies.

In a message to Sukarno on that day, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung said:

"I am convinced that the anti-Malaysia struggle waged by the Indonesian people under your leadership will be greatly conducive to the preservation of peace in Asia and the world."

A North Korean parliamentary delegation which visited Jakarta in April was reported to have said that two North Korean divisions were being prepared to help Indonesia's "crush Malaysia" campaign.

In May, Indonesia's Sports Minister R. Maladi visited Pyongyang and signed a joint communique to strengthen sports relations.

North Korea has been an important and warm supporter of Sukarno's Games of the New Emerging Forces (GANEFO). A ban on athletes who attended the 1963 Ganefo from the Tokyo Olympics, particularly affecting some promising North Koreans, is being taken as a new affront from the West by Indonesia.

Premier Kim Il Sung was invited to attend Indonesia's Aug. 17 National Day celebrations but was unable to go. A North Korean delegation was sent, however.

Cambodia and North Korea agreed in 1962 to exchange consuls general and to expand trade relations.

North Viet Nam recently sent a National Assembly delegation to Jakarta led by its most pro-Peking member, Truong Chinh. Indonesian government chief D. N. Paldit told the delegation that Indonesia "will support the people of Viet Nam in opposing American aggressors."

Wisconsin Report

Election May Decide Who Will Lead State Democrats in Future

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The historical record will show that this political season achieved a complete change in the leadership of the Democratic Party of Wisconsin.

Wyngaard

been going on for a year was the recent installation of David Carley of Madison as the new national committeeman, succeeding Patrick J. Lucey, who had been the most important and the most widely known organization officer of the last half dozen years.

On the face of it, the revolution was bloodless. Lucey was not a candidate for reelection, on the record. He chose to run for lieutenant governor this year, and such a candidacy is incompatible with a place in the party command machinery.

In actuality, Lucey probably revised his personal political blueprint with the assassination of his friend President Kennedy and the succession of President Johnson to the White House. There were hints early in the Johnson administration of a desire for a rapprochement with the anti-Lucey elements of the party, and specifically, with the group represented by Sen. Gaylord Nelson.

MEANING

Thus it may appear to party loyalists and non-Democrats that the Nelson Democrats, scolded, are now in solid control.

Louis Hanson, who became party chairman a year ago, has risen in the organization largely through the sponsorship of his friend Sen. Nelson.

Similarly, Carley has risen quickly — or surely more quickly than even this articulate, energetic and ambitious young man probably would have risen — because he got a start through Nelson's patronage in the governor's office five years ago. When Carley ran for his national committee office in the state convention last summer, no delegate in that hall had any doubt that he was Nelson's choice.

Nevertheless, the change of command positions may be less significant than has been suggested in some of the prominent news dispatches lately. In the first place, the internal maneuvering has had no discernible connection with ideology. It has reflected personal rivalries and ambitions and personality conflicts, rather than party goals or beliefs.

Second, the story may not yet be complete. To say that Sen. Nelson has taken over complete command of the party, even as his early mentors of the LaFollette family once commanded the Progressive Party in which he got his start, must await the outcome of the fall elections.

NOVEMBER TELLS

The governorship remains the most powerful elective office within Wisconsin, in party terms and in governmental authority. If Gov. Reynolds is re-elected, his close friend Pat Lucey will remain an important figure in state politics. If his running-mate Lucey is elected to the lieutenant governorship also, they will compose an intimate and effective partnership in the statehouse as the state has seen in years. Moreover, Lucey will have a head start for a gubernatorial nomination in 1968 or 1969.

If Reynolds and Lucey should lose, the Nelson takeover will be complete and certified. There would be no way for Lucey to stay in sight, even if he desired to do so. There would be a clear path to the nomination for governor in 1968 of Carley, the Nelson protégé.

Sen. Nelson then would have an unchallenged leadership role in his party, especially because of Sen. Proxmire's indifference toward party place and partisan maneuver.

This Is Time to Learn What Parties Stand For

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It is shocking and appalling to me to learn the truth about how much misleading propaganda is being presented to the public, the labor union members, and many other organizations and groups against Barry Goldwater and all that he stands for and believes in. Here is one courageous, forthright American who can keep this wonderful country of ours a free and better land in which to live and bring up our children.

Our greatest enemy is not the Communists (whom we all abhor or should abhor). It is the lack of knowledge about how the Communist party operates, about what is really going on in this United States of America — slowly and gradually, bit by bit so as not to be obvious to the general public — the underhanded, disguised events that are taking place each day, the true source and instigators of these events, the various organizations and their activities (including the top leaders of the labor unions) that on the surface appear to be working for the good of our people but in actuality are not. All these things about which so many people do not make the effort to really learn.

I think the Post-Crescent has been giving very fair coverage to Barry Goldwater and the Republican Party. I commend them wholeheartedly for this. Unfortunately, this is not the case in countless other newspapers and publications going out all over the world. Numerous columnists, reporters and TV commentators seem determined to twist this presidential candidate's words and phrases into their own democratic way of thinking.

In the past, I have not been very politically minded. This is the time for all of those who can say the same to read all the true facts about what Senator Goldwater believes in and will do for this great free land of ours.

I have derived much of my information from a most enlightening and informative newspaper published right in Washington, D.C. called "Human Events." If more people could read this newspaper (there are others that are wholly as instructive: the Wall Street Journal for one), I'm sure that there would be some change of thought as far as how this country should be governed.

A public speaker I am not (although at this crucial time I wish I were), but if just one person reading this article would become as stirred up as I am about the future of our country and, through Barry Goldwater, the salvation of our country, then I would feel greatly satisfied knowing I contributed a little toward helping him win this election.

Please, try and dig out the true facts of both the Democratic and Republican Parties, and after you've become convinced of what policies you think would best suit this country, then cast your vote in November.

One could go on and on about Communist aggression, preserving our freedom, Federal domination, etc., but I know this newspaper could not print all of it. Just take a little time from your busy lives to learn the genuine history — past, present and future — of your country before making such an important decision as voting for our next president.

Unaccountably, however, young people sporting Goldwater banners seemed as enthusiastic as the others in jumping up and down and cheering for the distinguished visitor — the first president since Calvin Coolidge to go to the Brunswick area.

The theme of Johnson's response to the havoc was summed up in impromptu words spoken over a radio station at Brunswick: "We very deeply regret what has happened, but we're going to do everything we can to alleviate it as soon as possible."

No Action Taken On Rabinovitz

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee met again Friday without taking any action on the appointment of David Rabinovitz as federal judge for Wisconsin's Western District.

Committee chairman Eastland, D-Miss., refused to take up the nomination in the absence of Sen. Ervin, D - N.C., who headed a subcommittee which recommended 5 - 1 that Rabinovitz be rejected.

Eastland scheduled another meeting for next Tuesday, indicating that the nomination would be acted upon if Ervin is present.

Eastland assured Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., that the judiciary committee will dispose of the interim appointment one way or the other before Congress adjourns.

Rome," the archbishop said in a telephone interview.

Archbishop Beran, who lives in semiretirement, said he had received a personal invitation from Pope Paul VI a few days ago to come to Rome for the council sessions which open Monday.

"The authorities maintain that it was out of the question for me to attend the council, because I am presently not in office as archbishop," Dr. Beran said.

The 75-year-old church leader was released from confinement last October after having spent nearly 14 years in jail and detention following his 1949 arrest in the wake of the Communist takeover in Czechoslovakia.

Your Problems

Kissing Steady Always Ready To Cause Some Catastrophe

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I can't talk to anyone about this problem and you'll soon understand why. My steady is 16. I am 17. She is a great little gal, lots of laughs and like that, but she carries things too far. When she gets it in her head that she wants me to kiss her she doesn't care where she is. Friday night she got the idea on the turnpike and we almost had an accident.

In the movies last night she wanted me to kiss her so I finally did — to keep her quiet. Well, my aunt and uncle were sitting behind us and I didn't know it — until this morning when I heard plenty from my father.

Don't tell me to break up with this girl. I have already thought of it and I've decided I don't want to. Any other suggestions? — No Name Please

DEAR IRRESISTIBLE: Since you don't want to break up with the girl you'll just have to take your chances and hope this kissin' miss doesn't land you both in the hospital—or worse.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 48 and have been going with an attractive widow for two and a half years. Last Christmas I gave her a lovely diamond engagement ring. She said we'd be married in a few months.

She has worn the ring only a half dozen times to my knowledge. When I asked her why she didn't wear the ring all the time, as most engaged women do, she said, "The diamond is so large I feel self-conscious about it." I suggested that we go to the jeweler's together and exchange the ring for one she likes better. She said no to that. I've tried to get her to set a wedding date, but she makes up one excuse after another. I have a hunch her two teen-age sons don't want their mother to remarry.

I've been patient for a long time, Ann, and I'm willing to do anything to make her happy. Can it be that I'm kidding myself? — Doc

DEAR DOC: If the sons are putting the dead hand on the marriage, you should talk this out with the three of them, at once. If this is not the case, and the woman is using her sons as an excuse, you should know that, too.

Give your fiancée 10 days to return the engagement ring — or tell you on what day you are going to put a plain gold band next to it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I started to go with Peggy last year. She is a wonderful girl and has done a lot for me. I wanted to quit high school but she made me see what a terrible mistake that would be. So I stuck with it and graduated.

Yesterday Peggy called me at work — something she doesn't do very often. She was very hurt and asked me to return the framed picture she gave me for Valentine's Day. Peggy said she saw me riding around during lunch hour with a girl.

Honestly, Ann, that was not a girl. It was a guy I work with. He has one of those Beale haircuts and was wearing a red plaid shirt. I can understand how she made the mistake.

I offered to bring the guy over and prove it to her but she said, "Don't bother."

If you can help me I would sure appreciate it. — Sandy

DEAR SANDY: I can't understand why she doesn't believe you. Today the girls look like boys and the boys don't look like their fathers anymore — they look like their mothers.

I hope Peggy will recon-

er. She sounds like a fine person and it would be a shame to lose her when you are innocent of the charge.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1964)

Opening lead —

West opened the queen of clubs, and declarer won in dummy with the king. South saw the main danger in trumps and played the suit properly since he knew the standard safety play.

Declarer led a low trump from dummy to his own ace. If East held all four trumps South could lead a trump to the king and, eventually, lead a trump through East's queen to South's jack.

Since it was West who had all four trumps, South next led a low trump toward dummy. West put in the ten, and dummy's king won.

South now had to postpone further trump plays. First he had to cash the ace of clubs and ruff his losing club in dummy.

Even then South could not afford to resume trump leads. West would take the queen of trumps and lead a club to make South ruff. South would be able to draw West's last trump, but the diamonds would then be blocked.

Declarer avoided this trap by cashing the ace and king of diamonds before leading the nine of spades from dummy. It was a good start, but South went down because he had overlooked one other possibility.

West took the queen of spades and led his singleton heart to dummy's ace. Since dummy had nothing but hearts, declarer had to lead a heart from dummy — and now he could not shut out West's eight of trumps.

South led the nine of spades from dummy one trick too early. He should cash not only the top diamonds but also the ace of hearts. Then he can lead the nine of spades to West's queen. Any return puts South in his own hand. He can safely draw the last trump and cash his good diamonds.

Paper Reports Clay, Liston Will Meet in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The way was reported cleared Friday for a Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship match in Boston Garden Nov. 16 or 17.

"It's all in the hands of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission, but I expect it will be resolved over the weekend," Promoter Sam Silverman said.

Silverman has been mentioned as a possible co-promoter of the fight along with Intercontinental Promotions, headed by Jack and Bob Nilon.

The Boston Record American said the decision already has been made and the boxing commission will sanction the contracts next Monday.

The newspaper added that the Massachusetts Boxing Commission would withdraw from the World Boxing Association, which has opposed the match.

Cowboys Take On Cards in NFL Opener

Expect Big Crowd For AFL Game In Shea Stadium

BY HAL BLOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Big-time professional football swings into action tonight with a new park, a new attack and a set of old faces the key attractions.

In the American League, the New York Jets host the Denver Broncos in the first football game ever played at Shea Stadium in New York. AFL champion San Diego plays Houston in tonight's other AFL opener.

In the National League, the revamped Dallas Cowboys take on the St. Louis Cardinals, Eastern Division darkhorses, in the only game scheduled.

The NFL moves into high gear Sunday with six games. New York is at Philadelphia, Chicago visits Green Bay, Washington hosts Cleveland, Baltimore is at Minnesota, Los Angeles plays at Pittsburgh and Detroit visits San Francisco.

Kansas City is at Buffalo and Boston visits Oakland in Sunday's two AFL games.

Tickets Move Fast
The Jets, surprised in the exhibition season with a 4-1 mark, and have been selling tickets almost as fast as their co-tenants at Shea, baseball's New York Mets. The turnstile count could set an AFL record Saturday night.

Coach Weeb Ewbank is depending on quarterback Dick Wood, a lanky veteran who uses Don Maynard and Bake Turner as his chief targets, to trigger the offense. Rookie Matt Snell from Ohio State should add running punch.

Denver unveils quarterback Jack Lee, picked up by Houston last month. The Broncos also have a tough runner in Billy Joe, the AFL's rookie of the year in 1963.

A pair of familiar faces, San Diego's Tobin Rote and Houston's George Blanda are the key men in tonight's other AFL encounter. The champion Chargers present the same powerful backfield to go with Rote while Houston, rebuilding after a dismal 6-8 season, offers little to supplement Blanda.

Paul Lowe, Keith Lincoln and flanker Lance Alworth give San Diego a potent offensive potential. But Lowe is reportedly unhappy with the Chargers and may be dealt elsewhere before too long.

The NFL Cowboys came up with two prize pass-catchers in off-season deals, picking up Tommy McDonald from Philadelphia and Buddy Dial from Pittsburgh. They should provide inviting targets for Don Meredith, who has inherited the Dallas quarterback job with Eddie LeBaron retired.

Meredith has been slowed by a knee injury and John Roach, acquired from Green Bay, may start tonight.

St. Louis counts on Charley Johnson's arm and the passing combination of Bobby Joe Conrad and Sonny Randle. Injury-prone John David Crow could hold the key to the running game.

Winneconne Defeats Freedom, 26-13, as Little 9 Race Opens third quarter after Pat Cousineau recovered a fumble on the Hilbert 35. Bob Bellile's tackle jarred the ball loose from Ken Harder after a pass completion. On the first play, QB Ken Huebner threw a 35-yard TD pass to Keith Krause.

Hilbert gained 114 yards rushing and completed five of 10 passes for 48 yards. Hortonville completed 7 of 17 for 87 yards but had a minus 6 yards rushing because of long losses on attempted passes.

Five different players scored the Reedsville touchdowns. In the first quarter, Dale Benter returned an intercepted pass 30 yards for the score. Dick Stelzer passed to Gary Pautz for the extra point. Later in the period, Dick Stelzer scored on a 3-yard quarterback sneak, after an interception created the opportunity.

After a partially-blocked punt in the second period, quarterback Lavonne Deitrich scored from the 1. Dick Stelzer ran across the PAT. It became 26-0 before halftime when brothers Dick and Bob Stelzer hooked up on a 50-yard TD pass play.

Fullback Chuck Wallander ran 11 yards for the final score in the third period. Shiocton's farthest penetration was the Panter 20 in the third period, but a fumble ended the march.

Winneconne put the game out of reach in the fourth quarter, as halfback Tom LaRue, who accounted for two of the team's four interceptions, scored on a 10-yard sweep.

Freedom posted a 16-4 edge in first downs and piled up a 220-146 yardage bulge. The Irish completed 12 of 27 passes but had four picked up, while Winneconne went 6-for-15 and had none intercepted.

Wrightstown and Denmark each penetrated to the other's 3-yard line in the bitterly-fought defensive battle. Each time the defense rose up to meet the challenge. In the second quarter, the Tigers moved to the Vikings' 3, but a 5-yard penalty set them back and an interception followed moments later.

Denmark reached the Tiger 3 in the last quarter, but Wrightstown took over the ball on downs. A little later, Denmark got back to the Tiger 7, but a fourth-down field goal try went awry with a fumble of the snap-back on the 12.

On the last play of the game, Wrightstown's Terry Ferron intercepted a long desperation pass on his own one and raced 64 yards before being downed on the Viking 35. Denmark posted an 8-5 edge in first downs and a 130 to 107 margin in total yardage. Wrightstown held the Vikings' feared passing attack to two completions in 18 tries for 18 yards. Wrightstown completed one of 10 for 11 yards.

Hilbert scored twice in the first five minutes and made the lead stand up the rest of the way. With 1½ minutes gone, a bad center pass on a Hortonville punting situation was recovered by Hilbert on the Polar Bears' one. Fullback Lyle Roehrig scored on the first play.

Hortonville was forced to punt after the kickoff and three unsuccessful plays, and halfback Gary Schmidt returned the ball 11 yards to the Polar Bear 35. Schmidt then carried three successive times to score. The final play of 13 yards went over tackle. Jim Diener kicked the point.

The Polar Bears scored in the

Because a protest had to be acted upon, except for first place, no other standings were official.

Two more races were scheduled today with the final event slated Sunday morning.

Returned letter winners include George Peebles and Bill Niesen, seniors and co-captains, and juniors Jack Capen and John Niesen. Several others who did not win letters, but can be classed as veterans are also returning. Three of the top runners of last year were lost by graduation.

Assisting Jensen will be James Phelan, one of two intern teachers from the University of Wisconsin.

Packers Open Season Against Bears Sunday

Ways to Face Champs With More Muscle In '64 Campaign

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Packers launch their bid to regain the National Football League title from the Chicago Bears Sunday in a 1964 season opener matching the ancient rivals at City Stadium.

Dethroned by the Bears last season after winning three straight Western Division crowns and two NFL championships, the Packers will be trying to avenge the humiliation of two 1963 defeats to their rugged foes from Chicago.

If Green Bay had merely broken even in the two outings, it would have won the division title. Instead, the Packers dropped a 10-7 decision in the 1963 opener and then were routed 26-7 in Chicago as they settled for second place with a 1-2-1 record.

With halfback Paul Hornung, the man with the golden scoring touch, back after sitting out last season for betting on games, the Packers will send more muscle against the Bears. Hornung demonstrated his old time form by scoring three touchdowns and adding the conversions in Green Bay's 21-7 exhibition triumph in the Shrine game at Milwaukee.

No Prediction The pre-season meeting can be discounted, however. The Bears played without the services of tight end Mike Ditka and halfback Ronnie Bull, who were injured. They also have added Jon Arnett to their running corps. And the Chicago defense still is the hard-nosed group which led the team to its first NFL championship in 17 years with a 12-1-2 record.

In addition to the return of Hornung to the starting lineup, the Packers will offer one other major change on offense. Bob Skoronski, who shared an offensive tackle berth with Norm Masters, has been shifted to center, replacing Jim Ringo, who was traded. Masters took full ownership of the tackle job.

Bill Wade is back at quarterback for the Bears, ready to match overhead shots and signal-calling with the Packers' Bart Starr.

A sellout crowd of 42,338 is assured for the official opening of the season. The kickoff is set for 1 p.m., CDT.

Gridder, 17, Suffers Fatal Seizure in Drill

SWEETWATER, Tenn. (AP) — A Tennessee Military Institute football player suffered a fatal seizure during a warmup drill preceding the team's regular practice session Friday.

James Kuntz Weber III, 17, described by assistant coach John Biddle as a "picture of health," died at Sweetwater Hospital at 4:15 p.m., 30 minutes after he collapsed on the practice field.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Weber Jr. of Louisville, Ky.

"Jim was the picture of health," Biddle said. "He underwent a physical examination before practice began the first of the week and there was no sign at all of any trouble."

Biddle said Weber had been on the field about 15 minutes when he collapsed. "He had not engaged in any contact work and had just finished a passing drill."

CLEVELAND — Dick Tiger, 16 1/2, Lagos, Nigeria, outpunted Don Fulmer, 10, West Jordan, Utah, 11 1/2.

LOS ANGELES — Alacran Torres, 11 1/2, Guadalajara, Mexico, knocked out Luis Sorrito Gonzalez, 11 1/2, Mexico City, 7.

Zephyrs Deal Weyauwega 20-0 Loss

WEYAUWEGA — Taking charge in the second quarter, Menasha St. Mary rolled to a 20-0 triumph over Weyauwega in a non-conference game here Friday night. Both teams now have 1-1 non-league records.

The Zephyrs, who only had the ball for five plays and a punt in the first period, thwarted Wega drives on the 37, 10 and 38 before beginning to mount their offense.

After the third march ended in a punt on the St. Mary 12, the Menashans began moving. The Indians only posted one second half threat and it was lost when a fumble rolled into the end zone and was recovered by the Zephyrs' John Schmeisser for a touchdown.

Weyauwega's deepest threat was its second and it started when St. Mary lost a fumble on the second play it tried. Richard Grambsch, of the hosts, recovered on the 33 but after two first downs the Indians had to surrender the ball on the nine.

Kimberly Wins, 18-6, Over St. John in Season Opener

Chuters Held To 18 Yards On Ground

BY JIM HARP

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly High School Papermakers combined a pair of St. John of Little Chute fumbles, a balanced offensive attack and a powerful defense and came out with a satisfying 18-6 victory over the Dutchmen in the season inaugural for both teams before an overflow crowd here Friday night.

The win was the third straight for the Papermakers in their long series against the Chuters. Coach Jim Nirschl's Kimberly gladiators scored in every way possible counting a pair of touchdowns, one extra point, a field goal and a safety. The lone St. John score came on a pass play in the third period.

Dominant Action The Kimberly defense completely dominated the action when the Chuters had the ball.

St. John was held to a mere 18 yards rushing while picking up 92 in the air via Mike Weyenberg's eight completions in 17 attempts.

On numerous occasions, however, the St. John quarterback found himself dogged by a host of Kimberly linemen who broke through the light St. John line repeatedly.

The Papermakers controlled the ball so well that the Chuters were able to get off only 11 running plays in the entire game, in addition to the 17 passes. St. John gained 14 yards on the ground in the first half and had a net of only four in the last two periods. Kimberly, meanwhile, ran off 31 plays on the ground and quarterback "Whitey" Nienhaus passed seven times, completing three, one for a nifty 52-yard touchdown play.

Intercept Pass In the first period, the Papermakers intercepted a St. John pass and returned to the Chuter 34. A pass from Nienhaus to Jim Geenen moved the ball to the 20 and a running play put it on the 13. When two line plays failed to get the first down, Dan DeWeert stepped back and booted a field goal from the 20 giving Kimberly a 3-0 lead.

Early in the second period, the Papermakers recovered a St. John fumble on the Chuter 27 and in five plays Kimberly scored a touchdown. Tom Van

Gains 235 Yards Rushing, Scores Thrice on Passes

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh wore down Green Bay East with a devastating ground game, then finished the job with an unexpected aerial attack to hand the Red Devils a 31-0 defeat in the Fox River Valley Conference and season opener for both teams here Friday night.

The Indians rolled up 235 yards on the ground, 118 by 215-pound halfback Ray Lux and 83 by 223-pound fullback Roger Lienhard, to wear down Green Bay in the first half and then struck for four touchdowns in the second half, three of them through the air.

Second string quarterback Bruce Erickson completed five of five passes, two for touchdowns in the final period.

Oshkosh scored with only a minute remaining in the first half on a 21-yard bootleg run by quarterback Gary Scheuerman.

The Indians marched 66 yards with the second half kickoff, with Lux going the last 13 yards for the score. After Lienhard blocked a punt attempt by Jim Wright, Scheuerman threw 31 yards to Bart Steinert for a score.

Ralston Facing Stolle In Sudden-Death Match

American-Aussie Test Preview of Coming Battle

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It's sudden death today for America's Dennis Ralston and Australia's Fred Stolle in the National Tennis Championships.

But no matter what the result of this stirring, postponed match between key Davis Cup principals. It would be difficult to point to it as a criterion of the outcome of the Challenge Round at Cleveland Sept. 25-27.

If anything, this opening preview only serves to portend that the Davis Cup battle between the United States and Australia will be a knock-down drag-out affair — and a toss-up.

Playing in the quarter-finals of the National Championships, Stolle, No. 2 singles player on the Australian team, took the first two sets from Ralston with brilliant tennis 6-2, 6-3 only to lose the next two to a fighting comeback 4-6, 3-6.

The fifth and final set was knotted 7-7 when it got too dark to see the ball and the match had to be postponed until 10:30 a.m., EST, with each player two games from victory.

It's Stolle's service.

Hawks and Terrors Are Both Blanked

Hodags Gain 6-0 Victory Over Xavier

RHINELANDER — The Rhinelander High School football team defeated Appleton Xavier, 6-0, here Friday night, marking the first time in the Hawks' 6-year history that they've lost two football games in a row.

The only score in the contest played on a wet field came early in the third quarter after Xavier fumbled the kickoff. The Hodags recovered on the Xavier 35 and churned to a first down on the 25. Bob Gironimi threw an 11-yard pass to Ted Reimer for another first down.

Three line plays brought the ball to the 1-foot line. Dave Stefan knifed over but fumbled. August Shimkus pounced on the ball in the end zone for the touchdown.

Rhinelanders made several other serious threats but the Hawks held at crucial times. Xavier held on its own 1-foot line on the last play of the first half, and on another occasion took the ball away on its own 4.

Xavier was unable to penetrate farther than the Rhinelander 40 against the strong Hodag defense, which registered its second straight shutout. The fourth-period penetration was stopped on a fumble. The teams fumbled a total of eight times, with only one being recovered — and it was on the TD play.

At the start of the game, it took five exchanges of punts before either team was able to notch a first down. It came late in the first quarter when Xavier's Gary Gunderson broke the ice with a 16-yard run.

Braves Edge Reds in Pitchers' Duel, 1-0

Denny Lemaster Allows Only 1 Hit; Loser Maloney Gives Up 2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The hitless pitcher gave out almost as many walks as he did hits. That's how tough Milwaukee southpaw Denny Lemaster and Cincinnati right-hander Jim Maloney were Friday night in one of the season's top pitching duels.

Lemaster allowed only one hit — one fewer than Maloney — and the Braves earned a 1-0 decision for their fifth straight victory as they opened a home stand before 6,715 chilled fans at County Stadium.

The two fire-balling hurlers matched hitless efforts for five innings. Then Lemaster lost his bid for no-hit fame as Leo Cardenas opened the sixth with a line single to left. Cardenas promptly was wiped as Maloney hit into a double play.

With one out in the seventh, Joe Torre grounded a sharp single to left. Rico Carty then rapped into an inning-ending double play.

Lemaster mowed the Reds down in the eighth, but Maloney wasn't so fortunate. Gene Oliver led off the Milwaukee half of the inning with a line drive which bounced past Deron Johnson, a converted catcher who has been employed chiefly as a third baseman.

Reverses Decision The official scorer ruled an error on Johnson. Denny Menke struck out and Gary Kolb was given an intentional walk. Oliver and Kolb then worked a

Michael Clifford, assistant pastor of St. Gabriel's Catholic Church, Neenah, who last month participated in a 700-mile tour of the South. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Panel Discusses Civil Rights At Ministerial Group Program

MENASHA — "The Civil Rights Bill has awakened the Negro community in Wisconsin to full citizenship and is re-awakening the rest of us to the fact that Negroes are fully protected citizens under Wisconsin law as well as Federal law."

"I am amazed that after 150 years of enslavement that there has been so little violence among the Negro. . . and now that he can see a little hope, I see no way that it can now be turned back until we have a completely integrated society."

"Neenah and Menasha are a dream. . . reality is in Mississippi, not here. There they are fighting for equality and justice for all. Will we ever know the deep moral obligation of hope?"

These were salient provokers of thought thrust into the minds of 140 Twin City listeners at the Civil Rights Seminar Friday night at St. Timothy Lutheran Church, Menasha.

Panel Members

Authors of the thoughts were Atty. Richard Long of Beloit; Dr. Gilbert James, sociologist at the U. of W., Fox Valley Center; and the Rev. Michael Clifford, assistant pastor at St. Gabriel Catholic parish, Neenah, respectively.

Long's legal interpretations of the Civil Rights bill conveyed the idea that there will be little effect in Wisconsin where there has been a public accommodation law since 1895; all citizens have had a right to vote; there has been desegregation in the use of state and city owned properties for some time and a fair employment practices law since 1945.

The attorney corrected the commonplace misunderstanding that a person could lose his right to sell, rent or lease his property to the person of his choice under the new law by saying that "the bill contains not one word about housing." He also pointed out that the federal government can only use injunctions against violations of the bill whereas the State of Wisconsin can enforce its civil rights legislation by fine and imprisonment.

No Difference in Blood

Dr. James shared his own soul searching in the matter of segregation, explaining that a Negro man's blood is the same as the white man's; culture is not transferred to progeny by genes, the Negro has proved that he can catch up intellectually and that purity of racial background is a "folklore, built to keep high ideals afloat and enable one to live on a lower level of behavior.

"What happens to a segregated people?" he asked. "They live with a depressed image of themselves as ignorant, stupid, bad, unclean. There can be no such thing as separated but equal. We are afraid of a thing we do not understand. . . and what we are afraid of is based on ignorance. Have you ever met a Negro as a human being? Evidence does not support

Woman Awarded $275 For Loss of a Wig

MADISON (AP)—A Madison woman was awarded $275 Thursday for loss of a wig she sent to a beauty parlor for cleaning and restyling. The cleaning agent caught fire, burned the beautician's my once held, erroneous assumptions and I cannot logically, scientifically, morally, or spiritually be a segregationist."

After a 700 mile auto trip through Mississippi in August, Father Clifford carried away the impression that young students working there on Civil Rights projects are "dedicated to American ideals. They are not young rebellious college students looking for trouble. . . they are the bravest people I have ever met, working for a human cause. They are there to see that their brothers and sisters get the same rights they, as whites, have always had. Many have taken this next year off to see that these rights are guaranteed the Negroes. . . they are teaching Freedom Schools and seeing that the Negroes register to vote. One of the great problems is finding leadership among the Negroes."

The priest depicted his first taste of fear, encountering law enforcement officers who considered county law above federal law; his integrated party was cursed, abused, warned to take cover before sundown. There is no such thing as "separate and equal in the fifth, squalor, prejudice I saw."

Listeners asked such questions as "If the Negro comes, won't he take our jobs in industry, demoralize our education?" "Can't we protest the appearance here of the idiot scheduled for next week?" (Gov. Wallace is scheduled to speak next Thursday in Neenah-Menasha.) "Can't we do something to eradicate the emotionalism of the race question which will burst into violence at any moment?"

Long chose to answer the first question with these words, "It is not a question of 'if' the Negro comes here — but when. Before he comes en masse, employ him where he is qualified, let him live where his money will take him and let him educate his children in your schools. . . or you will produce a black savage — just as you would a white savage under the same conditions."

hands and reduced Mrs. Betty Parrott's hairpiece to ashes. Small Claims Judge John A. Walsh disagreed with the beauty parlor operator's contention he could not be held negligent as fire inspectors did not recommend changes in his cleaning procedure.

The judge noted that the wig burned on a cold day in February and the parlor's furnace room door was open.

Mae West Takes Blonde to Task Over Use of Name

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mae West has gone to court to protect the name Diamond Lil, which she says she created on Broadway and in the movies.

The alleged name usurper: a 250-pound platinum blonde singer, Marie Lind.

Miss Lind won a postponement Thursday in Superior Court, saying she needed time to hire an attorney. But Judge Alfred Gitelson said she could not use the name Diamond Lil in the meantime.

Miss Lind argued that if she couldn't use the name she couldn't work, and if she couldn't work she couldn't hire a lawyer. Judge Gitelson was not swayed.

Miss Lind admitted she compares herself professionally with Mae West, billing herself the girl who "looks like Mae West and sings like Sophie Tucker."

Miss West, 72, had also sued the Gold Opera, Inc., which operates a Hollywood night club called Diamond Lil's. The club promised to drop the name and that part of the suit was dismissed.

Chilean Mountain Site For Astronomy Center

Could Become Greatest Star-Research Project Center World Has Ever Known

BY RALPH DIGHTON

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Atop a lonely, windswept peak in northern Chile a group of American universities is building the nucleus of star-research center that could become the greatest in the world.

The story comes from Dr. N. U. Mayall director of Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, where the administration wants to build a $10-million, 150-inch telescope, second only to the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in California.

Kitt Peak is operated by the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy — AURA — under contract to the National Science Foundation.

Observatory Sites

AURA three years ago began a survey of possible observatory sites in South America and recently selected the 7,200-foot Chilean mountain called Cerro Tololo, 300 miles north of Santiago.

Here will be built, with $500,000 in Air Force funds, a 60-inch telescope to be trained on such little-studied targets as the Clouds of Magellan — the two galaxies nearest us — and the Milky Way, which lies just below the horizon of Northern Hemisphere telescopes.

Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, and Sweden have decided to locate a major observatory in northern Chile with six instruments with a mirror up to 140 inches in diameter.

This group, called ESO — for European Southern Observatory — may select one or more of the six peaks in AURA's 180-square mile reservation or it may choose other land near them.

There are reports, so far unconfirmed, of a hush-hush project to build with private funds a giant telescope rivaling or exceeding in size the 200-inch one operated by California Institute of Technology and the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Using 100-foot-tall towers with sensitive devices to detect small heat pockets in air currents flowing up and over 6,875-foot Kitt Peak, scientists have found that even these small thermals can distort the faint light coming from distant stars.

As a result, the dome housing the new 150-inch scope planned here may be mounted on stilts 100 to 300 feet high. This would place the scope's highly polished mirror in quiet air above the flow of thermals.

Another "first" in astronomy being pioneered in Tucson, which probably will have application at the new Chilean center, is automatic operation of a telescope by remote control.

Scheduled to go into operation late this year, this telescope at first will be controlled via telephone lines from headquarters in Tucson 30 miles away. Later it will be run by microwave radio.

The dome will open and close the telescope will train on distant stars, and what it sees will be taped and sent back to headquarters for study — all by remote control.

Human Occupants

Perfection of this technique would mean that Orbiting Astronomical Observatories — OAO — to be launched in the next few years will not have to give up space for human occupants.

Astronomers who now often shiver through winter nights in open domes on mile-high mountains tending their huge mechanical "eyes" would be able to work in shirt-sleeve comfort in laboratories near their homes.

AURA astronomers have more money at their disposal than their colleagues ever have had in history but the memory of lean years keeps them frugal.

When Mayall and others were conducting site surveys in Chile they kept their mission secret. They found a suitable tract of land which had been on the market, somewhat hopelessly, for a long time.

They bought it — 115,000 acres of useless grass — for about 10 cents an acre.

For 3-Week Vacation

Will Not Say Whether Abiding by Request
Of Council to Take 30-Day Leave of Absence

Appleton City Clerk Elden Broehm left the city late Friday and will return about Oct. 1. The 40-year-old public official has been target of criticism since his arrest and fine last week in Milwaukee on a disorderly conduct charge.

Broehm gave nothing in writing to Mayor Clarence Mitchell or the council as to whether he was abiding by the latter's request to take a leave of absence.

His friends and city hall observers reported that Broehm was "an extremely tired man in need of rest."

Clerk for 9 Years

Broehm has been city clerk for the past nine years and was re-elected to another two-year term in April. Before that he was a clerk in the sheriff's office.

Earlier in the week he was unopposed for sheriff on the Republican ticket in the primary. He announced, however, that he would drop from the race.

After the council action Thursday night, it was reported that Broehm signed a waiver which would take his name off the ballot but it was tendered to Republican party officials.

The waiver had not been filed with the county clerk as of Friday afternoon.

Spice Opposition

It is believed party officials are attempting to find someone who will agree to have his name placed on the ballot to oppose Sheriff Calvin Spice, a Democrat, who is seeking reelection to his second term.

Prior to leaving, Broehm indicated to his staff and Mayor Clarence Mitchell that he was going to take a vacation. Mitchell said the clerk conferred with him shortly after noon Friday.

At no time during the controversy was Broehm criticized for the operation of his office, which council members have indicated is efficient.

The city clerk's job pays $8,600 a year.

Deputy City Clerk Mrs. William R. (Eileen) Haese, 1410 W. Washington St., will direct the operations of the clerk's office in Broehm's absence.

Major Prophet of Flying Saucer
Fanciers Gives Talk in Appleton

George Adamski, Who Says He Met Visitors
From Other Planets, Outlines Experiences

BY TOM RICHARDS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The major prophet of Appleton's flying saucer fanciers arrived in the Fox Valley Friday night, and at an informal conference outlined his beliefs, predictions and "experiences."

George Adamski, 73, Vista, Calif., who claims to have met visitors from other planets, and ridden in their space ships, is in Appleton for a three-day lecture series.

He told some 50 believers, skeptics and non-believers Friday night he has been in contact with the space visitors since the late 1940s, and has conferred with officials of every major nation in the world.

Through a heavy accent, the son of Polish immigrants said people from Venus and Mars who are visiting earth are not hostile. They have come to prevent war on Earth, he said.

The "space people" fear a nuclear war on Earth would split the planet, and cause it to disintegrate. This, he said, would throw the entire solar system out of balance and cause destruction of the visitors' home planets.

Adamski said it is "good" for earthmen to go into space, even if their theories are "full of hot air."

"About 60 per cent of the work force (in the United States) is employed in space projects," he claimed. "Pretty soon, all of us will be."

This will be valuable, he forecast, because "sagging economies are responsible for wars. We are almost to that stage now," he warned. "Machines in three months can produce all the goods the world needs for a whole year."

Adamski is trim and dapper at 73, with a thick shock of wavy white hair and piercing brown eyes. He travels extensively in his lecturing, and is the author of four books concerning his claimed encounters with interplanetary visitors.

He said he was not a missionary, and warned of "opportunists in the field of space education," who connect space visitors with religion.

"They look just like earth people," he said. "They're not spooks, spirits or ghosts."

However, references to religion, a Supreme Being and philosophy frequently crept into his discussion. He told the group he had been raised and educated as a Catholic, and at one time had a "strong desire" to become a priest.

Adamski said he supported no individual religion, but admitted a belief in a supreme power.

He accused the governments of the world of concealing information about space, and visitors from other planets. Textbooks currently being used in schools are about 35 years behind times, he said, but if all that he said is known were released, there would be a demand for new texts, and "that would cost a lot of money."

Adamski, who is "retired" and says he has worked at various professions, including painter and decorator and boiler-maker, claimed if all the 4,000 photographs taken in a recent U. S. moon shot were released, they would show vegetation and water on the moon.

Only nine were released, he said, because others would be "too shocking."

"Why are the astronauts getting jungle and water training if there isn't water or vegetation there?" he asked.

He charged "people don't think for themselves or reason logically any more." The government "stimulates interest in flying saucers until they get too many questions."

Many high-placed government officials also have met visitors from outer space, but "do you think either one of the presidential candidates would admit it if he had?" he said. "He'd never be elected. The public wouldn't accept it."

His audience Friday included a Kaukauna High School teacher, who said he was a skeptic, five young girls from Wilson Jr. High School, who hadn't yet decided whether they believed what Adamski said, and a variety of others.

Most enthusiastic of the believers is Mrs. Charlotte Bloch, chairman of the local group, who says she frequently sees interplanetary space ships over the Fox Valley. However, she says she has never met any of the passengers on the ships.

Adamski's lecture series here will begin Monday at 8 p.m. in Appleton High School's auditorium. A film of "saucers and space craft" will be shown.

The remaining lectures will be Tuesday on "space craft and space people," and Wednesday on "philosophy and science and life of space people," both to be held in Wilson Junior High school.

Cabinet for Talmud
Replaces One More
Than 100 Years Old

A new "Ark" to replace one more than 100 years old was put into service by the Zion Temple Congregation during its observance this week of the High Holidays, the most solemn observance in the Jewish religious calendar.

The Ark is a wooden, cabinet-like piece which contains the Talmud, the authoritative body of Jewish law from the five books of laws in the Old Testament. These are written by hand on sheepskin scrolls called the Torah, which is used for liturgical purposes.

The new Ark replaces one built by the original Zion Congregation over 100 years ago, and is of a modern design, according to Arthur Kaplan, congregation vice president in charge of religious services. The congregation sold its temple some years ago and now meets in homes of members, so the new Ark is light and easily portable.

Double Plaque

The Ark was built for the congregation by Vorpahl's of Appleton. It has two sections of walnut, with the bottom section containing supplies. The double plaque on top has the Ten Commandments carved in abbreviated Hebrew, and signifies the tablets on which Moses received the Ten Commandments.

The Ark was based on a model from Temple Beth El, Madison. It is about seven feet high and three feet by 15 inches in size.

The High Holidays began at Sundown Sunday with the observance of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year. The 10-day period of penitence will conclude with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, beginning at sundown Sept. 15 and continuing through the following day.

Zion Congregation is conducting its services for this period in Harper Hall of the Lawrence University Music-Drama Center. Rabbi Simon Cohen, librarian at Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, Ohio, has come to Appleton for the fifth year to conduct the services.
